"Focus"

Dr. Lou Yock

Ancient wisdom agrees that "we are repeatedly what we do." It is all the more important then, to pay attention to that which we are doing. Focusing on our tasks, our routines, our attitudes, helps us to better be the people we would like to be.

Join members of the City of the Dead cast, crew, and planning team to learn about this event, discover some of the stories Evergreen Cemetery has to offer, and to better understand why a group of dedicated UUs and community members spend so much time with the dead.

Greetings from the Board of Trustees

Dearest Friends,

It's my pleasure to write this message from the board as we sit fully into the swing of Summer. The solstice has just graced us and temperatures are sweltering. As I sit here in the sticky heat, waiting for a thunderstorm later this evening, I think it's important for us to embrace the seasons and changes in our lives. Some of us may loathe the heat and hours upon hours of light in summer, others may take no joy in the snow and deep darkness of winter, others of us may thing any weather is for the birds, but all of it is part of the natural life of the earth around us, and all of it will pass, all of it will change, and all of it will progress.

In the same vein of life changing and progressing, Rev. Matthew Cockrum's consultancy with us has come to a conclusion. He will certainly be around here and there as he is able, but his formal contract with us has come to an end. I think this is a great opportunity for us to meditate on what we've learned about ourselves in the last year. The end of Matthew's consultancy is not an end to the work we do at HUUC, but merely a beginning. We now have the opportunity to take the things Matthew helped us discover about ourselves and the skills he helped us build and continue to apply those things to further build and strengthen our beloved community that we call home.

One huge effort that was inspired by our workshops and that I would like to highlight, is the development and adoption of our new Statement of Values. This statement gives us a firm and clear voice to the values we all work to affirm in our lives and work. The development of this statement was contributed to by all of us and I think it beautifully describes what we are working for at HUUC.

Harbor Unitarian Universalist Congregation (HUUC) is our spiritual home where we practice our values of Acceptance, Compassion, and Social Justice in the wider world.

HUUC is a community that:

- Welcomes and respects a diverse set of beliefs and the inherent worth and dignity of all people;
- Fosters love, kindness and friendship to all;
- Promotes practices to create a more just and healthy world.

Please have a safe and blessed summer, filled with exciting experiences and growth.

Yours in Beloved Community, Jones Barton HUUC Board Secretary

News from CARING COMMITTEE...

The newly organized

SOCIAL ACTION

Committee

is focusing on a major ongoing project instead of a lot of smaller ones. One that hopefully HUUC will eventually be knownfor and will attract new members. There seems to be a lot of excitement around tutoring 1-3rd graders at Bunker Elementary or our church. We are in the middle of narrowing it down to something a small church can manage and have minimal or no cost. Half a dozen members have already expressed interest in volunteering. And the school is excited about how we can help. Once it is more nailed down, we will present it to the board.

We will continue to encourage members to

- participate in Supper House,
- participate in Adopt a Family for Christmas
- participate in Pride Muskegon

Stay tuned - HUUC is on the move.
